

GARLINE Soft gelatin capsules

Dietary supplement – maintains health and vitality

Garlic has been used since ancient times as a natural health donor and curative nutrient. Recently, medical reaches have verified that garlic contains many active substances which actually share in keeping body health and vitality in their optimal state.

GARLINE Capsules offer all the beneficial effects of garlic with the additional advantage of being almost odorless and tasteless.

GARLINE when used regularly as dietary supplement, helps to maintain physical activity and fitness and prevent premature senility. It improves circulation and is of value for hypertensive patients and for those with high lipid and cholesterol blood level.

GARLINE also helps expectoration and has antiseptic action and patients with bronchitis, asthma, or intestinal or systemic infection gain benefit by its use. In addition it provides a protection against common cold and influenza.

The volatile oil of garlic contained in GARLINE is very potent and dose of capsule taken three times daily (preferred before meals) is sufficient in most cases to provide the desirable effects of GARLINE.

N.B.: Capsules are to be swallowed with some water they must not be chewed or crushed.

Packing:

Boxes of 60 capsules (3 strips each containing 20 capsules).